“The APMA is incredibly vital for the industry. We had a period where there was no industry body, leaving a vacuum. No one was really governing or helping advertisers or partners with best practice or guidance within the industry.

“The APMA is now doing that.”

Nick Caulfield, Senior Director of Growth & Operations, Expedia Group

“The APMA’s State of the Affiliate Nation is most comprehensive report on affiliate marketing in over a decade and the result of great collaboration across various stakeholders. The data shows the industry is thriving, delivering exceptional ROI and diverse growth opportunities for all brands. We’re proud and excited to be part of this industry and the APMA.”

Helen Southgate, Chief Strategy Officer, Acceleration Partners
